JOSEPH WORMELL.

verable, though unjust, decisions. There are, to be sure, some honorable exceptions to this rule; and would to heaven there were more. But for the support of this bill we rely upon the wise men of the country—the sound-headed and honest-hearted yeomanry of the commonwealth. To those calculating and worthy representatives of the "bone and muscle" of the community do we look for the protection and defence of the rights and blood-bought privileges of the people.

We hope the day of persecution for opinion's sake, has gone by, and that its sun has set, never to rise in this the land of our joy and delight.

Our thoughts and sentiments should not be restricted by any legal enactment, but be permitted to range here, there, and every where, as the judgment and the light of evidence may direct. They should be left to circulate free as air, and to mount, at pleasure, as on the pinions of the noble eagle, a distance "daring and unbounded."

But I will not enlarge at the present time, as others there are on this floor better able to do justice to the subject than myself. The bill has my best wishes for its final success.

I sincerely hope the proposed law may now be made, as no doubt it will sooner or later; the people will sanction it with their approbation, and thus consign the present unjust and obnoxious feature of the common law to the grave of eternal oblivion—the receptacle of things lost on earth.

BOSTON MORNING POST.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1837.

Extracts from letters to the Editor.

Washington, Feb. 20th 1837.

Dear Sir—The House have just concluded the examination of witnesses in the case of Reuben M. Whitney, and he has been discharged. At 3 o'clock, this afternoon, it appeared that there was not a quorum of members present, and two hours were consumed in going through with the call; Mr Bell then proposed to the witness an interrogatory something like the following:—Have you had any conversation with the President in relation to the matter under consideration, and have you not heard him say "those fellows ought to be Houstanized," meaning, thereby, they ought to be chastised in the street? This interrogatory was objected to and voted down 100 to 54. Mr Lane, of Indiana, then introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is inexpedient to prosecute further the examination of witnesses in relation to the matter now under consideration; and that Reuben M. Whitney be discharged from the custody of the House.

The previous question was demanded and sustained. The main question was then put and carried, 102 to 70.

Mr Peyton then endeavored to offer another interrogatory but the House adjourned. Thus has closed an inquiry which has lasted a week, while much business of real importance has been set aside. While the deposition of witnesses have been read by the Clerk, in which they recite the low and profane language used by Mr Wise in the course of the altercation in the committee room, he sits with his legs upon his desk, "laughing at his own folly." The Senate have been engaged in an interesting discussion today on the passage of a Bill appropriating a large sum of money to purchase the original manuscript report of the debates in the Convention which adopted the Federal Constitution, as taken by Mr Madison. Mr Calhoun could not find the clause in the Constitution which authorized the appropriation. Mr Rives replied in a very forcible speech of half an hour, and soon pointed it out. The bill passed the Senate. A report is current here to-day, (and I have very little doubt that it is correct) that Mr Peyton has challenged Mr Gholson, from Mississippi, and that Mr G. has accepted the invitation. The latter gentleman is said to be "pluck," and his friends boast that he has killed his man. Mr Johnson, who was wounded in a duel last Monday morning, now lies ill at Gadsby's, and I learn his leg may yet suffer amputation.

To-morrow, by previous arrangement, the subject of the recognition of the independence of Texas, comes up, probably, however, in consequence of the short time remaining, the House will give the subject the go-by, and take up the Appropriation Bills.

We have received the gratifying intelligence, that the Indian General, Oseola, has surrendered to Gen. Jesup.

Washington, Feb. 20, 1837.—Dear Sir—The House is still engaged in the Whitney case—an effort has been made and is now pending, to dismiss Mr Whitney and the whole subject—perhaps it will be decided in time to inform you in a Postscript. Peyton in attempting to catch the bear has been caught himself, and if he survive the hug he may claim to be immortal.

It is said that Forsyth, Woodbury, and Kendall will remain in the Cabinet, and Mr Butler will continue as Attorney General. Mr Poindexter, of South Carolina, it is said, will be Secretary of War, and it is thought that Mr Mullensburg will take the Navy Department, in the place of Gov. Dickenson, who it is believed will go to Russia.

It is rumored that a duel is on the tapis between Peyton of Tennessee, and Gholson of Mississippi, both members. Poor Peyton has a hard road to travel, but is one of his own selecting.

The opposition are broken and dispirited; they have no common ground on which they can meet and organize. The Bank is the best point for them, and they will rally as well as they can on the monied powers. Great efforts will be made to fortify and consolidate that interest the coming four years; and the democracy ought to be vigilant on this subject, not only against the arts of the open enemy, but against the treachery of faithless, timid and weak friends. There are some in both branches of the national legislature who owe all their political influence to the democracy, that are only waiting for an opportunity to sell themselves to the Bank.

Among the arrivals from the east, in this city, I notice that of the Hon. A. H. Everett, of Massachusetts.

P. S. The House has discharged Mr Whitney by a vote of 102 to 70. It is a virtual condemnation of Peyton and Wise. These men, I think, must sink beneath the odium their conduct has brought upon them.

The Money Market.—Tuesday was as tight a day for money in New York, as has been known there. Stocks, however maintained themselves. The N. Y. Times says:

"There was a firm tone of feeling yesterday in this city, and the general impression is, that we have found bottom. One of our leading financiers has expressed an opinion favorable to an easier market on the 1st March."

By a return published in the Times, it appears that the U. S. Banks, contracted the issues of its Notes between May and November, $8,422,364 17. It is generally supposed the Bank considerably expanded its issues in November and December, and contracted them again in January and the beginning of February.

An Elopement—so 'tis said.—Quite a buzz has been created about town by the very sudden and mysterious disappearance of the popular and charming little songstress, Miss Charlotte Watson, who has absented herself from her paternal home since Saturday last, and has not yet been traced to her retreat, though diligent search has been made for her, high and low, by her relatives, aided by some of the police. A report, encouraged by Mr Watson, was set afloat that she was secreted in the house of a gentleman in advanced life connected with the National Theatre; but there is no more truth in it than there would be in a rumor that she was a second time spirited away by the magic of Paganini's fiddle string. For more than a year past we have been authentically informed that her life at home was one of anything but comfort or kindness, and we feel perfectly assured that "the head and front" of her present absence is, that she has sought, in the house of an intimate friend of her family, a refuge from treatment which ill became her to receive or others to inflict. Was her flight of a more serious character, she would have made some provision for it, and would not have neglected to take even a change of dress with her. Success to the sweet girl, say we.—N. Y. Sun.

Judgment was entered yesterday, in the Supreme J. Court, on the case of T. P. Brown, against the Boston and Providence Rail Road Company, and the Directors requested twenty days to pay the $7000, and costs, which was granted. We shall probably publish a further report of hearing before the Referees, in the course of a few days.

The Natchez people were so delighted at the appearance of snow upon the ground of their city, that they all quit business and commenced sliding down hill. It must have been an amusing sight to see the old white-headed men coasting on a sledge.

The Montreal Herald says that a Boston gentleman is staying in that city merely for the purpose of eating a particular kind of fish sauce they have there.

A Queer Expression.—In the course of the debate on the Witness Bill on Tuesday, Mr Gardiner said, that he had observed, when Quakers make affirmation in Court, that their manner was quite solemn;" and Mr Rantoul spoke of "the well-known and habitual piety of a venerable gentleman from Boston."

The lower house of the Pennsylvania Legislature have passed a bill appropriating $20,000 for the instruction of the blind, the building to be free of taxation.

An Account of a dreadful sea fight will be found under our Poetical head on the First page. The assertion is that the conqueror is a bachelor, we believe is incorrect.

POLICE COURT.

A touch of the Spartan lad.—On Tuesday, we noticed the arrest of a tough little twig, named John Connolly, for stealing a quantity of new sheet-lead, and the examination was postponed, for time to find the owner. Yesterday, Mr Brown, of the firm of Cushing & Brown, came forward, and identified the lead, in the most absolute manner, as having been stolen from his shop. The conduct of the boy was bold and defiant, and he attempted no explanation. There was every reason to suppose, that he was assisted by a man, or at least instructed by him, how to enter the shop, and Mr Brown questioned him accordingly. "You shant find out from me," said the little gallows bird; "I'd sooner be hanged than let you know how I got in, or tell who showed me, or who was with me." As he was further pressed, he said, with flashing eyes, and a look of fierce determination—"It's no use talking to me. You won't get any thing by it. So let's go, if I'm going."

The Court considered, that he was so far gone, that he might contaminate the Juveniles in the House of Reformation, and therefore sentenced him to the House of Correction for four months. His parents have long dead, and he has no relation whatever in this State. He is inclined to a sea-faring life, and will assuredly make a notable and desperate pirate—such is the prospect before him.

Stealing in fun.—As a lad, named Edwin C. Bryant, was the other day playing with three half dollars, in a bar-room, a full-grown loafer, snatched two of them from him—in sport, as was first supposed; but the feel of the chink was so sweet unto him, that he could not prevail upon himself to deliver them back; he found it much easier to lie about them, and denied that he had them. Knowing that he was not worth much, unless stuck to like death, he persisted in his denial. Watchman Glover told him, he had better give the money up, and pass it for a joke; but as he didn't like that same paying back, and Bryant didn't like to lose his argent, a "whereas" was taken out, the theft proved, and the loafer fined $5.00, and costs, in default of which he was committed.

For the Boston Morning Post.

Mr. Editor—I was surprised at a communication which appeared in your paper of Wednesday, relative to a "Milliner" in Washington street. I suppose that your correspondent alluded to Mrs. Gregory, a lady who is famous for her benevolent and kind feelings, and who has given hundreds of dollars to relieve the distressed. The truth is this—Mrs. G. had left her store when the painful circumstance occurred alluded to by an "Eye Witness," and knew nothing about it until the next morning—those left in charge of her business supposed the applicant for their pity to be unworthy of it—not knowing her actual condition—and refused to admit her into the store, a circumstance by no means surprising. Had they known the actual situation of the unfortunate woman they would readily have granted her request.

JUSTICE.

Capt. Hunt, of the ship Switzerland arrived here yesterday from Havre, states that a large number of vessels sailed from that port on the 25th December,—the Erie being the only American among them. The whole fleet was driven ashore in the Bay, near La Hague, the same night, and the greater part of the crews drowned. A large bright waisted American (supposed the Erie) was seen ashore, and the force of the gale blowing directly on shore, it was thought impossible that she could escape. Capt. Hunt thinks she had but two passengers.

The Debate on the Witness Bill was continued in the House yesterday. Mr Rantoul advocated the Bill in an animated and most argumentative speech, which we shall publish to-morrow. Messrs Kinsman, of Boston, and Alvord, of Greenfield, spoke in opposition to the Bill. Mr Cobb, of Malvern, commenced a speech in favor of it, but gave way, to a motion to adjourn.

At a meeting of democratic republicans from Wards 11 and 12, held at the Lafayette Hotel on Wednesday evening, it was voted by them to celebrate the 4th of March by a public dinner.

MAN'S DOMESTIC MEDICALINES.

BY which Cosiness, and all Intestinal Obstructions, may be instantly removed, and other consequences prevented, by means of Warm Water only, which can be applied by the individual, with the utmost privacy.

The habitual use of purgative drugs, can afford only a temporary relief, by unnaturally stimulating the digestive organs, whilst the great utility of Laxatives, or Domestic Oysters, so long practised in France, and almost every part of the Continent, is now so far established in the opinion of the Medical Profession, in this country, as generally to form a part of the diction of the most eminent practitioners, to their Dyspe-tic, or Bilious Patients.

To persons of costive habits particularly, and to all who are about taking medicine, they will be found not only useful, but almost indispensable. They are put up in neat portable mahogany boxes, and for sale at the Saloon and London Importing Warehouses, No. 36 Cornhill, formerly Market street, inf & Mif. feb 12

PHILIPS'S ARCANUM.—For the cure of the worst diseases of the skin, ulcerous sores, scrofula or king's evil, syphilitic and mercurial diseases, rheumatism, white swelling, liver affections, costiveness of the bowels, general debility &c. And such diseases as are caused by an impure or bad condition of the blood. It is likewise particularly recommended to those whose constitutions are broken by habits of luxury and intemperance, the injudicious use of quinine and mercury, and badly cured diseases, by unskillful or neglected medical treatment, and all those whose lungs and chest are diseased by remote causes in the system.

The Arcanum has proved itself years of experience for superior in its class. Dr Phillips, Physician to the Queen of Portugal and the French Royal. In testimony of the above statement we refer to the opinion of Dr Sam'l L. Mitchell, of New York, Dr Jones of Baton Rouge, Dr Archer of Virginia, Dr Godman of Philadelphiæ, who have investigated the properties and efficacy of the article, and affixed it as being superior to all medicines in their knowledge, for the removal of the diseases above named. Price $2 per bottle.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 1st, 1835.

In the year 1830 I requested Dr Phillips to visit a daughter of mine, aged about 15 years, having a distortion of the spine or back bone, and whose general health had always been feeble.

The curvature of the spine, at that time, had acquired a hopeless and singularly disfigured appearance, and the Sternum or breast bone corresponded with the distortion, presenting to the beholder a deformity calculated to excite the deepest sympathy. From the first appearance of the disease she had solicited the most skillful of the profession, whose attendance and prescriptions and remedies were unobtained with success or begged in a word, the progressive march of the disease bid defiance to the ingenuity of skill, and the power of medicine.

It was under these circumstances that we commenced the use of the Arcanum, which was perseveringly administered for several months. Her general health soon began to improve, and the progress of the disease was gradually arrested, by this medicine only, and the use of the salt water bath.

From this period, her strength and energies of mind and body were evidently improving, and the deformity was diminished with the growth of years. At this time, which is more than five years since, we adopted the treatment of Dr Phillips, my daughter is in the enjoyment of good health, to our astonishment and admiration. She has been a teacher or instructor for two years past.

M. DAVENPORT.

The great demands for the Arcanum, and its remarkable effects in chronic diseases, give it the decided preference to any other medicine. See Medical Advertiser.

DR CHAPMAN'S COUGH MIXTURE.

This Cough Mixture is highly recommended by N. Chapman, M. D. Professor of the Institutes and Practice of Medicine, &c. in the University of Pennsylvania, as a superior article. Price 50 cents.

CHEMICAL FILE OINTMENT.

This article is also prepared from a Formula of Professor Chapman's, of Philadelphia, for the cure of the Piles, and is an excellent remedy. Price $1.

FISHER'S CORN PLASTER.

This Plaster, for the cure of Corns, is not equalled by any remedy in this country. Price 50 cents.

The above celebrated and excellent medicines are constantly at wholesale and retail, by S. WILLIAM WARD & CO, corner of India and Milk sts, Boston. Dealers supplied at the lowest wholesale prices.

Dr A Gentleman in Thomaston, was many years afflicted (thought incurable) with ulcers in his throat, pain in his limbs, loss of appetite, universal debility, and otherwise disengaged; his life disengaged of, was restored to perfect health and spirits by a few boxes of these Pills.

Dr A Seafaring man, suffered so severely from this complaint for two years, as to be often deprived of his rest, had pains in his limbs, sore throat, headache, enlargement of the glands of the neck, scull bone affected, a bad cough, no appetite, entirely debilitated, and considered as past relief, having tried other medicines in vain, was cured, and restored to perfect health, by a few boxes of these Pills!

Dr A young man, was recently entirely cured from a bad stage of the complaint, by using the above medicine (to less than $3 value,) after receiving the advice of several physicians, and using various inferior medicines.

Dr A valuable Master^r ¹ feel myself (writes a person soon after using these Pills,) thoroughly cured, and believe this invaluable medicine has completely eradicated the complaint from my system; a property which I think this remedy possesses beyond any other with which I am acquainted, and is a desideratum in my view, which renders it above all price.

A treatise explaining the various symptoms, with full directions, (so that persons of either sex can cure themselves) encircle each box.

* Price of the Pills $1 a box—the Injection Powders and Cerate, 50 cents.

RIDDER, of whom they may be had at his Counting Room, ov'r No 99 Court street, corner of Hanover street, and also by his appointment of the Druggists generally Boston and vicinity.

PECK'S PATENT PLATFORM BALANCE.

A drawing of the balance.

DR. GOODWILL'S GONORHOEA and Gleet Detergent.

THE only infallible remedy ever discovered for Gonorrhœa and Gleet, is now become well known and established, in all parts of the Union, to require comment. Its uniqueness, however, in no instance has failed, has warranted it to come in forty-eight hours, the most desperate and inflammatory cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, and whites in all their stages, strictures, Seminal Weaknesses, pains in the loins, irritation of the Uretra from Gravel, as well as chronic affections of the urinary bladder and kidneys, if ever so violent or long standing. This safe and only infallible remedy is an agreeable liquid, and its effects long on the constitution, (being composed of Sarsaparilla and the choicest of preparations) that while it restores the system, its superfluous parts, every other kind of medicine only requiring a trial to prove its efficacy.
